Readme for HelpList hi-fidelity prototype

This prototype is a mobile web application, so it should be easily accessible from any web browser. Please access it through your phone. Please note that the prototype scales according to the screen size of iPhone 6, the screen may be cut off in other iPhones. Please use the back button on your browser to get back to previous screens when you are in the middle of the app and want to get back. We are making it publicly accessible, so no special permissions or access should be required.

We have a couple of implementations inherent to the prototype. The first of these is that the classes are hardcoded in, and which class you are automatically signed into upon opening the app is pre-set. The feed for these classes are fully functional, though. In addition, the notifications are not fully set up, so even if you post a question you will not be notified if somebody responds to it.
