

Think about the last piece of art you saw. Do you remember how it made you feel? And more importantly, can you make yourself feel that way right now? If you can, congratulations - you're one of the lucky few! It turns out that this is a hard task for a lot of people! So say Ahoy! to Trove, a modern day treasure map that empowers users to re-experience their emotions. With our location-based AR mobile app, you can hunt for hidden art exhibits, collaborate and create art with friends, and hoard riches in a treasure trove of your own. So set off on a new adventure and treasure the memories you make along the way! Thank you.
