Hall of Fame or Shame?

Making Art Accessible to Young Professionals

We heard:

“I don’t understand.
Why is this $50 and this $5000.
I actually like the $50 one more, but maybe it sucks.”

“What do my

Team Wanderlust

We heard:

“[I’m] a person who only goes to places one always goes – safe bets.”

“when visitors come or I’m with other people, I’m motivated to research and explore new places”

“safety is the most important element when navigating a neighborhood”

People are not always searching for the sure thing and other people can serve as motivation to explore new areas

WE MET . . . .

Lena, a newcomer to the city, who is afraid to stray from her routine path

WE WERE SURPRISED TO NOTICE . . . .

Team Wanderlust

We heard:

“there was a time that I only had a final destination to visit. Since I wasn’t in a rush, as long as I arrived to my final destination, routes did not matter.”

The fastest route is not always the preferable route. People need a way to customize their routes depending on context/purpose.

WE MET . . .

JunGu, a short-time visitor from Korea, exploring the area on his way to a destination

WE WERE SURPRISED TO NOTICE . . .

POV Will Differ Depending On Who You Talk To

The image shows a Google search interface for the term "professor". At the top, the Google logo is on the left, and the search bar contains the word "professor". To the right of the search bar are icons for image, voice, and search. Below the search bar are navigation tabs for "All", "News", "Images", "Videos", "Books", and "More". Further right are "Settings" and "Tools". On the far right, there are icons for "Collections" and "SafeSearch".

Below the navigation tabs is a horizontal row of filter buttons, each with a small circular icon and a label: "college", "university", "pokemon", "clipart", "teaching", "math", "old", "art", "physics", "harry potter", "stock photo", "classroom", "academic", and "chemistry".

The main area of the page displays a grid of search results. Each result consists of a small image thumbnail and a text caption with a URL. The results include:

Administrivia: AI Policy

AI policy: In recent years, AI tools have become more and more powerful, and they have been gaining wider adoption in the software development industry. However, AI tools can also inhibit the learning process by undermining the struggle and effort it takes to truly learn a new skill.

Taking these factors into mind, we are going to try a new, experimental AI policy this quarter in CS 147. For all assignments except for implementing the Hi-Fi (A8), we ask that you do not use AI tools to complete the assignment. These assignments will help you build fundamental design thinking and prototyping skills. For implementing the Hi-Fi prototype (A8), we will allow free use of AI tools as long as their use is credited appropriately in your submission.

Team Meeting Agenda

1. Schedule weekly meeting times (2-3)
2. Make a plan for how you will get the rest of your interviews & presentation slides done for Thur/Fri
3. Folks who have days where they know they won't be at studio, schedule your presentations now & make sure the team is covered & work is made up
4. Go over the homework assignment carefully & ask clarifications of your CA or of me during/after break

- Provides focus & frames the problem
- Inspires your team
- Provides a reference for evaluating competing ideas
- Fuels brainstorming by suggesting “how might we” statements
- Captures the hearts and minds of people you meet
- Saves you from the impossible task of developing concepts that are all things to all people
- Is something you revisit & reformulate as you learn

EVALUATE YOUR POV

Start Here

1. Does your POV start by focusing on one specific person and sharing relevant context?

4. Does your POV help you generate many ideas immediately?

3. Does your POV offer an insight about the person that is emotional and flows logically from what you learned?

2. Does your POV present a truly surprising observation or quote related to a pain point?

3. Does your POV offer an insight about the person that is emotional and flows logically from what you learned?

2. Does your POV present a truly surprising observation or quote related to a pain point?

We met... Chuck. ← No background

We were surprised to notice... he wears jeans often and they're always dirty because he doesn't clean them. ← It's a fact that jeans get dirty when you don't clean them. Not surprising.
