Problem

Long-distance relationships are difficult to maintain, and communication through social media lacks the emotion that healthy relationships need.

Solution

Create a new way of communication in which people can convey more emotion and meaning through messages regardless of location.

Three Tasks

1. Sender creates message (photo, video, gift) within mobile interface, and places it in a location relatively near receiver.
2. Receiver navigates to location via appropriate transportation aided by AR.
3. Once at location, receiver uses camera phone to open and view message.
